Freedom Food Truck Festival – this evening!

To celebrate Nelson Mandela Day and the final weeks of the dedicated exhibition at the Park, tonight we're hosting the Freedom Food Truck Festival. The event will offer a range of culinary treats from around the globe and freedom colours will adorn the outside of Eden Park to acknowledge and celebrate diversity and community.

A large selection of food trucks will return to the Park from 5pm–8pm and entry is free via Gate A, off Walters Road. More information on the event can be found here.

Following the popular 4 The Hood food truck events earlier this year, we are pleased to welcome vendors back to the Park including Sabores (Spanish/Latin), Rolling Pin (Asian), Che Lucio (Argentinian), Captain Crepes (French), Ice Cream Social (Dessert), Rack n Roll Ribs (South African), Stumpys Pizza, Taco Loco (Mexican) and Tinman (Coffee/Dessert).

The Mandela, My Life: The Official Exhibition is at Eden Park for two more weeks before departing overseas and those who attend this evening can view the exhibition for the special event price of $10.

Today's $10 tickets to the exhibition, available between 5-8pm, can be pre-purchased here or at the exhibition this evening.

Gather your friends and family and head along to sample a plethora of delicious street food at this festive evening out!
