Blues v Stormers

After Friday last week, column inches have been piling up for all the right reasons about the Blues and particularly Tom Robinson. This week they take on the Stormers who, despite their attempts to dictate the pace of the game, were defeated in Wellington so the Blues will look to pile further misery upon them and keep gaining momentum in the New Zealand conference.

We have 100 tickets up for grabs, first in first served. As usual, we'll be here from 7am tomorrow at Gate G reception (limited to two tickets per household in The Hood).

'Together' – Auckland's Remembrance for Christchurch – Friday 29 March:

Eden Park has been chosen as Auckland's venue for public to attend and experience this Friday's National Service following the terrorist attacks in Christchurch. New Zealand's national stadium will open its doors for public to simulcast the National Remembrance Service live from Hagley Park. Following this those who wish to pray can utilise the facilities at Eden Park.

Please note that from 9.00am Friday the streets surrounding Eden Park will be closed and the Auckland Transport Resident Only Parking Scheme will not be in operation – TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR FRIDAY 29 MARCH

8.00am Eden Park's surrounding streets closed
9.00am Gates Open
10.00am National Remembrance Service simulcast

1.40pm Prayers
2.30pm Auckland service
4.00pm Eden Park's surrounding streets opened

The service is being organised in conjunction with the Federation of Islamic Associations of New Zealand (FIANZ) and will be part of a national day of remembrance activities across the country, with the Auckland service including music and performances. A number of community leaders will be in attendance including Mayor Phil Goff, Auckland Council representatives and Government dignitaries to be in attendance.

Following liaison with NZ Police all vehicle movements within the surrounding streets of the stadium will be closed down and vehicles exiting the area after 9am will be unable to return until after 4pm.

If you have any concerns or questions in regards to logistics around this event, please get in touch. We greatly appreciate your understanding and support. More information on the event can be found here.
