

Te wiki o te reo Maori

As we all know, it's Māori Language Week – Here at Eden Park, as part of our Māori strategy, our function spaces have been renamed in conjunction with Ngāti Whātua Ōrākei to reflect New Zealand's rich multicultural heritage. Each space now is now referenced by both its Māori and its English name. To celebrate Te Wiki o te Reo Māori, we thought we'd share those names with on our social media.

Keep an eye on our pages to see all the new room names as the week goes on.

Who keeps Eden Park running during Lockdown?

Are you wondering who keeps Eden Park ticking along during Alert Level 4? Who keeps the hallowed turf healthy, and makes sure that the Park is safe? If so, check our social media here!

We're running a series on our essential workers, and how they work during Level 4 to keep Eden Park ready for the next unforgettable moment.

Do you have a good lockdown pet photo?

If you've got a pet, get snapping! We want your lockdown pet photos – the best photos will go into our email next week!
